

Maternity cover Dental Nurse/Receptionist or Decontamination Technician

One of our nurses is awaiting a happy event and so we will have a happy event of our own, welcoming a new member of staff. Our a vacancy for a part time Dental Nurse /Receptionist for maternity cover starts in August 2017. Although the position is maternity cover it might be worth mentioning that 2 of our nurses started as previous maternity cover. Initially, 2 days weekly and increasing as needs demand. We are a Denplan Excel accredited practice and provide a wide range of care from simple advice on effective oral care to complex implant and restorative cases. You might be assisting one of the dentists, hygienists or implant surgeon in surgery, manning the reception desk or the decontamination room. The position would suit a qualified professional with surgery experience looking for a varied and interesting day meeting lovely people and helping us to look after them. Applicants without qualifications or experience can apply for our part time maternity cover position as a decontamination technician/receptionist and training will be provided. For a job description and application form go to our website www.morgandental.co.uk